ADDRESS OF THANKS TO THE THRONE—PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, August 11.

Parliament was prorogued to-day by royal command. The following message from the Queen was read by the Chancellor:

"We are commanded by the Queen to express to you the satisfaction with which Her Majesty receives your further attendance in Parliament. How much your further attendance is required at this time Her Majesty understands to be fully proved by the continued pressure of important business, and by the necessity of providing for the early prorogation of Parliament. Her Majesty commands us to express to you her thanks for the diligence with which you have applied yourselves to the consideration of the various measures which have been submitted to you, and to inform you that she has given her assent to the bills which have received the sanction of both Houses of Parliament.

"Her Majesty commands us to express to you her thanks for the liberality with which you have granted the supplies necessary for the public service. Her Majesty has given directions that the estimates for the year shall be laid before you. Her Majesty commands us to express to you her satisfaction at the improvement which has taken place in the condition of the revenue, and to assure you that she has observed with pleasure the readiness with which you have provided for the charges which have been occasioned by the recent disturbances in Ireland.

"Her Majesty commands us to express to you her regret that the measure for the regulation of the Irish Church Establishment, which you had given so much time and attention to perfecting, has been rejected by the House of Lords. Her Majesty commands us to assure you that she has observed with satisfaction the temper and moderation which you have manifested in the discussion of that measure, and that she trusts that the result of your deliberations will be found to have removed many of the difficulties which have hitherto attended the settlement of this question.
